

Custom Writing

Sometimes it is possible to meet change of phonetic structure of a word by stunning or chanting consonants, that also can emphasize comic effect. Let us help you with writing, come to Custom Writing at any time.

Speaking about use of numbers in writing of words, it is necessary to emphasize replacement of syllables and sometimes even words with numbers that allows to make process of writing faster and perception more emotional.

The grammatical level of the language is revealed through morphology and syntax. Morphology explores the forms of a word, as well as the totality of word forms. In order to express their attitude towards the speaker or the subject in question, authors can change the form of a word through Internet communication.

Usually this is done by changing one or more letters to a matching letter within a single word. Note that it is possible to meet a combination of word forms, thus creating new words, which gives a humorous effect.

Within the syntax it is important to consider the use of commas and the role of words in a sentence. Incorrect use of one or another word can also lead to a comic effect.

If we look at blogs with jokes in English, we can also observe a language game that is achieved with a stylistic tool such as pun.

This phenomenon is called misprints, which is caused by rearranging the letters in the word due to inattention of the speaker, and also by replacing one letter with another if they are located next to each other on the keyboard.
